Filled by Sundridge Search – VACANCY CLOSED – Height Safety Midlands & Central Sales Manager (£30000 – £35000 basic plus benefits)

Description

Our client is an international Height Safety Equipment manufacturer. They are looking for a central England/Midlands based Sales Manager. The successful candidate has to be based no further North than York (on the North East) and Preston (on the North West). And, no further South than Milton Keynes. Ideally the candidate will be based centrally in the geography described (ideally candidates will not be based in East Anglia or Wales as the majority of the business is an hours drive from these locations).

The Sales Manager will control and develop new and existing Height Safety customer accounts as well as gain new business in the Midlands. You will be working with the director to develop the business. The ideal candidate needs to have a successful track record in technical sales. This is a unique opportunity for someone with no industry experience to learn and sell height safety equipment for a business whose preference is to recruit candidates from outside of the lifting and height safety market. This is a great opportunity to sell a completely new product!
